A conceptual rendering of a modern rooftop infinity pool. The pool is bordered by a wall of light-colored, textured plaster on the left and a thatched roof structure on the right. A set of dark wooden stairs leads down from the right side of the pool. The pool's edge is finished with a mosaic of blue and white tiles. In the background, a clear blue sky meets a calm ocean, with a few distant buildings and palm trees visible on the horizon. The overall aesthetic is clean, minimalist, and tropical.
